OVERALL RATING

OFFENSIVE SKILL (HANDLES, SHOOTING, PASSING, ABILITY TO CREATE OPEN SHOT)

- 1: beginner: just learning the game, and can improve with more reps and SKLZ
- 2: pre-intermediate: flashes of ability mixed with inconsistent offensive play that leads to turnovers. Can be improved through more gameplay and SKLZ
- 3: intermediate: positively contributes to the offense without being "the guy" to get a bucket. Offensive role player in good sessions, can make things happen in lower sessions
- 4: pre-advanced: can create their own shot or a shot for others most of the time
- 5: advanced: can get a bucket or create a bucket for others when they want

DEFENSIVE SKILL (HOW WELL CAN THIS PLAYER LOCK DOWN OTHER PLAYERS)

- 1: beginner: just learning the game, unsure of where to be on the defensive side, and movement can use work
- 2: pre-intermediate: moves well on D, but defensive IQ/hustle could use improvement
- 3: intermediate: good hustle and instincts makes this player solid on D and not a liability unless matched against a pre-advanced or advanced player
- 4: pre-advanced: strong defensive presence and instincts, only occasionally overmatched by a 5
- 5: advanced: lockdown defender who can also cause turnovers on the defensive side of the floor

GAME IQ (DOES THIS PLAYER KNOW WHERE TO BE ON THE FLOOR?)

- 1: beginner: just learning the game, unsure of where to be on both sides of the ball
- 2: pre-intermediate: can find open space, be out of people's way or in the right spot occasionally
- 3: intermediate: generally in the right place/moves well without the ball
- 4: pre-advanced: understands both sides of the ball, and moves well without the ball, just lacks the speed/quickness of a 5
- 5: advanced: in the right place 9/10 times
